

Colour Group (Great Britain) WD Wright and Palmer Awards

Application for WD Wright or Palmer Award

Please read guidance below before completing application

The goal of the Colour Group awards scheme is to encourage students and young researchers to present their work at national and international meetings, and to benefit from interaction with the international colour community. Applications must be substantially related to the subject of colour, but may be based in any discipline or mix of disciplines. Both research-based and practice-based work will be considered.

- ❖ Applicants must be members of the Colour Group GB, be working or completing a PhD at an UK institution at the time of application.
- ❖ Membership application is available on the website:

<http://www.colour.org.uk/Join-CGGB.php>

The WD Wright award is primarily intended to post-graduate students and the Palmer award is intended for post-doctoral fellows (or equivalent). For both awards:

1. The maximum award to any applicant is £500.
2. The award is intended as a contribution toward the costs of travel and subsistence. It is not intended to pay the meeting registration fee.
3. An applicant must reside in the UK. There is no restriction on nationality or age of applicants.
4. Applicants must be registered as a post-graduate student or employed as a post-doctoral researcher at a UK University or College of Higher Education.
5. The applicant's supervisor / mentor must confirm in a separate email that the applicant is registered at the stated university/college. (No more than two applications will be accepted from the same supervisor.)
6. An applicant who submits a successful application in one year may not submit an application for any Colour Group Award (Palmer or Wright) in the following year.
7. Officers and Committee members of the Colour Group are not eligible for any award.

Colour Group (Great Britain) WD Wright and Palmer Awards

The application deadline is the second Wednesday in April at 4pm, with the aim of formal announcement of successful applicants at the Colour Group AGM in May.

Each applicant is asked to submit an application form, which includes a 200-300 words abstract of the intended presentation, a 500-600 words research summary, and a CV. The application process is competitive, so that in general not all of the applications will be successful.

Each recipient of an award is asked to make a presentation at a forthcoming Colour Group Meeting, usually in the autumn. He/she is also asked to provide a copy of the conference presentation or poster (e.g. PDF of a PowerPoint file) and/or a version of a paper submitted to the conference proceedings. These will be posted on the Colour Group website, linked to the award details, and an abstract will be published in the Newsletter.

To apply, please complete all sections of the application form and email it as an attachment to:

Some Thoughts on Applying for Colour Group Awards

The Colour Group uses a peer-review procedure with at least five reviewers to judge the applications for its travel awards. The awards are judged on the perceived quality of the work done, as well as the quality of the actual application.

The applications need to show :

- A degree of individuality. It is important that the applicant puts their research into context, i.e. explains the motivation, objectives, background, other work, etc.
- It is also important that the applicant explains the significance of their results, i.e. how they are related to other research's findings and how they might be exploited to advantage in practical applications.

- In addition, the applicant should include a clear statement on the benefit of the work to the general public.
- Applicants who fail to complete each section of the application form will be automatically disqualified.
- The CG(GB) does not grant more than two awards to students of any particular supervisor in any one year. We encourage departments to use an internal process to limit the number of applicants and select the best applications, and then coach those students to develop their proposals more effectively. This is more likely to yield a better outcome than asking every student to submit something that does not present the research in an effective way.
